

Hasham Khalid

- GitHub: A web-based platform for version control and collaboration using Git.
- Puppet YAML: A configuration format in Puppet for defining infrastructure as code using YAML syntax.
- Dependency: A software package or module required by a project to function properly.
- Gradle: A build automation tool used for project dependency management and task execution.
- API (Application Programming Interface): A set of rules enabling software applications to communicate with each other.
- Local Storage: A web storage feature that allows data to be stored in a user's browser for persistent access.